Powerful and efficient.

At the heart of the Elantra Series II lies a highly advanced engine (designed and built by Hyundai) that's coupled to a choice of two transmission systems.

The 1.8 litre 'MPI' engine, made of stronger yet lighter aluminium, delivers up to 110kW of power while producing 178Nm of torque at 4,700rpm.

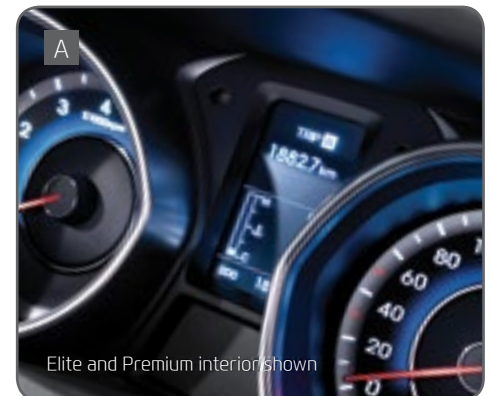

This lighter engine, together with the use of Continuously Variable Valve Timing technology on both cam shafts, helps deliver significantly greater fuel efficiency - as little as 5.6l/100km* on highway cycle.

An electronic throttle control accurately manages air intake and engine torque, which further improves driveability, responsiveness and economy.

When combined, the Elantra's powerful performance, exceptionally low fuel consumption and reduced CO<sub>2</sub> emissions all add up to one of the best performers in its class.

A Eco-driving system

The Eco-driving indicator in the instrument panel displays a green LED light to indicate fuel-efficient driving and ECO indicator displays green light on A/T only. M/T variants have a shift indicator suggesting most efficient shift points.

B 6-speed automatic

The Elantra's six-speed automatic transmission is lighter, shorter than previous generations and has less moving parts to optimise engine performance and boost fuel economy.

C 6-speed manual transmission.

For purists who insist on doing their own shifting, the six-speed manual transmission option is economical, quiet and ultra-smooth, designed to deliver many years of trouble free operation.

Built-in safety for peace of mind.

Hyundai is driven by a philosophy to build the safest cars on the road today, which means that safety considerations begin with a tough and uncompromising approach to vehicle engineering.

Designed to protect

Achieving Australia's highest possible occupant safety rating - 5 Star ANCAP - the Elantra has been reinforced with ultra-high tensile strength Australian steel to provide a stronger chassis. Likewise, safety-critical areas such as door modules and intrusion beams have been reinforced to provide greater protection in the event of an impact. Also standard on the Elantra are six airbags, including dual front airbags, front seat-mounted side airbags and roof-mounted side curtain bags that provide cocoon-like safety at every seating position.

Designed for control

While driving the Elantra, a myriad of active safety technologies are continuously at work, monitoring the vehicle's performance and handling, ready to spring into action to assist you maintain or regain control. These include the Electronic Stability Control (ESC) with Traction Control System (TCS), which senses the loss of wheel grip (such as when skidding) and then applies individual wheel braking, together with engine and transmission adjustments, to help you get the vehicle back on its intended course.

Vehicle Stability Management

Hyundai's state-of-the-art VSM System takes active safety one step further. Using integrated information from the vehicle's other active systems including ESC and TCS, VSM intuitively applies steering assistance in appropriate circumstances in order to help guide the driver to the best steering position in a given situation.

Rear Parking System

Rear parking sensors warn you when you're getting too close to an object, while a rear view camera (Elite & Premium) built into the rear of the vehicle provides a colour LCD image on the 7" Touchscreen of the area behind the vehicle, for additional safety and protection.
